Ramon's Nerve and Bone Oll cures Rheumatism, Cuts, Sores, Burns and Bruises, for 25c.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other dis-eases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incura-ble. For a great many years doctors ble. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure in the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and nucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Arrangements have been made for a general praise and thanksgiving meeting, to be held on Thursday night in the Presbyterian Church, in which all the churches will unite and which the community in general is invited to attend.

At a meeting of the Portsmouth Baptist Association, held last week in Southampton county, the following reso-lution was adopted: Resolved, That this association raise the sum of $2,500 for the purpose of erecting a cottage at the orphanage, to be called the Portsmouth Association Cottage.

A marriage license was issued from the clerk's office yesterday to David Dull, of Augusta county, and Miss Adis Ann Oakey, of Saiem, and the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Kenedy at the residence of John M. Oakey a brother of the bride, and the contracting parties took the one o'clock train for the groom's home in Augusta county.

At a meeting of the Salem bar yesterday the following resolutions were offered by Colonel Hansbrough and

'Resolved, That we, the members of the bar of the courts of Roanoke county, do most heartily regret the decease of our brother, Col. John E. Penn, of Roanoke city, who has been so recently taken by the ever beneficent but incrutable Previdence from the bosom of his loving and beloved family and the society of his numerous friends and admirers, to join the myriads that have preceded him to the home whence

"Resolved, That he was, in his early manhood, a patriotic soldier and gal-lant cilicer in the army of his native land, and since the return of peace has proven himself a useful citizen, an admired member of society, a devout Christian, a loving husband and father, and an able, learned and distinguished member of the legal profession.
"Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved family our most heartfelt sympathy, and that we, his brethren of this bar, feel that we also share some degree in their great and irrep-

Short and feeling addresses were made Short and feeling addresses were made attending the eminent qualities and virtues of Colonel Penn by Col. R. H. Logan, A. B. Pugh, Henderson Lee, Jacob Baer, Lucian Cocke and Major Ballard. Judge Blair commended the resolutions and ordered that they be spread upon the records, and requested that they he published it he Salam and that they be published in the Salem and Roanoke papers, and a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

THERE is one medicine which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly healed be-fore inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment and bound on over the seat of pain will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by The Chas. Lyle Drug Company.

"While down in the Southwestern part of the State some time ago," says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints." For sale by The Chas. Lyle Drug Company. sale by The Chas. Lyla Drug Company.

MR. J. K. FOWLER, secretary and to sirup. Stock Co., of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds, but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effectual in giving relief, and now keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by The Chas. Lyle Druz Company.

Did You Ever Think

Did You Ever Think

That you cannot be well unless you have pure, rich blood? If you are weak, tired, languid and all run down, it is because your blood is impoverished and lacks vitality. These troubles may be overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilia because Hood's Sarsaparilia makes pure, rich blood It is, in truth, the great blood purifier.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING.

Its Recent and Rapid Development Upoa

Before a recent meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers Mr. H. Ward Leonard delivered an interesting address upon electrical engineering developments in France and England as contrasted with those in America. In its commercial development of electricity America is placed first—in fact, far in advance of the old world countries—but considered from an engineering standpoint Mr. Leonard thinks the United States is losing the lead it has thus far held. He lays the responsibility for this condition of affairs almost entirely at the door of the great electrical moopolies, which have stood in the way of progress, and particularly in preventing the trial of devices and systems of which Europe presents varie-ties unknown to us. He questions what has been done in this country in the way of electrical engineering develop-ment since Edison started his three wire lightning distribution at Sunbury, Pa., in 1883, and Westinghouse established his alternating system with 1,000 volt primary and 50 volt secondary a few years later, and Sprague started the Richmond electric railroad in 1887. There has of course been great extension of installation along these lines.

We have, Mr. Leonard says, the best three wire central station plants in the world. Also the best alternating system, converting from 1,000 to 50 volts, but we have practically no other kind of central station to point to. We are operating 500 volt continuous current electric railways at distances for which 2,000 volts should be used instead of 500, and after investing more money in copper per car than the entire cost of the electrical equipment we still lose twice as much energy as is commercial in the line. In England in alternating systems a three wire secondary is used with 100 volts on each side, and, according to Mr. Leonard's view, there was no excuse except patents for a 50 volt two secondary originally, and none save the inertia and prejudice of a large corporation for continuing to put in the two wire secondary today.

Rotary transformers are used in sev-eral stations in England for a continuous current, high potential multiple are distribution, the secondary being a three wire system, and some American inventions not patented in England are found to have been utilized in central stations there, while they have been neglected in the land of their inception .- Providence Journal

A Frog With Four Wings.

The curiosity of tropical Africa is the wonderful flying frog, first described by Bishoff of the equatorial African expedition, which returned to Europe in the fall of 1894. This oddity of the reptile family is about the size of a common bullfrog and resembles other members of the order of batrachians in everything but its feet, each of which is webbed and enormously enlarged, so much so as to form splendid substitutes for true wings. The creature has five toes on each of the other two, which makes four separate membranes on each of its hind feet and three on each fore foot, or 14 in all. In his description of it Bishoff says, "Each leg terminates in a sort of fan, and with these the little reptile pandles the air like a locust, or like a partially fledged bird testing its pinions for the first time."

Although somewhat awkward in its flight, the winged frog can dart through the air at a speed of about ten yards per second and can keep itself going forward at that rate for from 10 to 15 sec-onds. The average distance covered by these spurts of grasshopperlike flight is from 75 to 125 yards, but Bishoff men-tions instances where the flying frog eleared sandy stretches 200 yards in width. -St. Louis Republic.

He Denied the Call.

An English army officer tells an amusing story of an incident that occurred at Maidstone many years ago, in the time of the old cavalry depot. On a certain very foggy night there was voices of the sentries who, at regular intervals, passed the usual word down The officer woke up just as the line. the usual watch was passing, and this was what he heard: First sentry, "No. 1, and all's well!" Then there was silence for a moment, and a voice called into the darkness, "No. 3, and all's well, and No. 2's asleep!" Before No. 4 could take up the thread of the proceedings a voice in which more than a suspicion of slumber remained cried hurriedly, "No. 2, and all's well, and No. 3's a liar!"

The word treacle has undergone an odd modification. At first it was applied to such decoctions of roots or other substances as were deemed beneficial in medical practice. Then, as these were frequently sweetened, it came to mean any sweet concection or confection, and lastly, as molasses was the sweetest of all, this name was exclusively applied

FASHIONABLE SKIRTS.

Hints About Fitting a Skirt-Where to

In order to finish the fashionable skirt properly around the foot, it should be fit-ted at the hips and put on the band before anything is done at the lower edge, since the lining, seams, stiffening and bias parts will make its length quite different, by netual measurement, on the person from what it seems to be as it lies flat on the

If the hips are very large in proportion, especially with skirts which have wide breadths and few seams, it is necessary to fit the skirt to them with darts, but if the breadths are many and narrow, the seams not be requisite, as any needful fitting may be done at the top of the scams. The full-ness at the back is laid in two or three plaits at either side of the middle.

Many women insist, even in these days, on having that convenient addition to the gown, a pocket. This is placed now at the left side of the back opening, between the shield, which lies under the opening, and the skirt itself. If the front of the skirt is trimmed in anyway permitting the adroit concealment of the pocket, it may be placed there, although if it is put to any use it is put to any use it is apt to make its presence evident by an unsightly bulge.

The skirt just now most in vegue should touch the floor all around without dragging. The inner fold of the godet is dragging. The inner fold of the godet is necessarily shorter than the outer one. It is said that soon we are to wear shorter skirts, brief enough to escape the ground with space to spare, and that godets are to be relegated to a place among the back numbers, but for the present the moderately long skirt and the godet are still with us and no other style is seen. If short skirts do become decidedly fashionable again, what a comfort it will be to ble again, what a comfort it will be to women who walk! Long skirts are becoming and graceful and feminine and pic-turesque, but they are not appropriate to even the mildest exercise, or to the out of doors world except as a carriage costume.

The walking gown shown in the sketch has a godet skirt of violine faille. The plain bodice is covered with medici gui-pure, embroidered with violet spangles. The faille sleeves have a balloon top. The standing collar is of faille with two sharp points. The belt is of satin of the same points. The belt is of satin of the sam tint, closed at the left side under a knot. JUDIC CHOLLET.

OUTING SUITS.

Tan and Canvas Shoes For the Country. Bieyele Salts.

Tan shoes are universally used for seaside and country wear and are said to be much cooler and softer than black ones. White or corn canvas shoes are recommendof the or ecru canvas shoes are recommended as still better, however, and as they are made of a becoming shape and are not expensive it is easy to give them a trial. For long walks they are light, soft and perfectly comfortable, and they keep their beauty longer than kid or leather shoes, which are minimal by them. which are ruined by sharp stones and moisture.

An expensive bicycling suit is not abso lutely essential to a full enjoyment of the wheel. Elaborate costumes can be bought or made to order and are exceedingly pret-ty and convenient, but a satisfactory one may also be made out of an old street gown if there is not money enough to pay for a bicycle and a wheeling suit too. It is better to save money on the costume than on the wheel. Gaiters and a more or less short skirt, with trousers of the same color beneath instead of white petticeats, may be worn with a shirt waist or a blazer such as forms part of the ordinary street

Nobody has yet been able to discover why the bieveleshirt of some women stays down in place without any trouble what-ever, while other riders are continually annoved by the skirt flying up and remain ing up in spite of silk lining, weights and other aids to the attraction of gravitation. Whether it is close fitting or full the gar-ment retains its skyward tendency and persistently exposes to public view the gaiters and bloomers over which it is sup-posed to east obscuring shadows. If some way short of tying it to the lower part of the frame of the bicycle could be invented for keeping the skirt in place, it would be a relief to a number of riders.

An illustration is given of a traveling wrap of light cloth. It covers the wearer wrap of light cloth. It covers the wearer from head to foot and is of a cape form, folds on either side of the front concealing the openings for the arms. Two graduated capes, edged by a stitched bins band, cover the shoulders, over which is a large, gathered capuchin hood lined with plaid silk. Beige, gray, navy blue or brown is a suita-ble color for this wrap, the plaid lining being selected to correspond. being selected to correspond.
